DEATH OF A. E. RICHARDSON.

Burlington Man Was Formerly Located in Waterbury.

Burlington, June 18.—Albert Emore Richardson, for many years one of Burlington's most active and prominent business men, died late last evening at the residence of B. M. Lambkin on North avenue. Mr. Richardson, who was stricken 13 years ago last May 8, with paralysis, had been practically helpless ever since. Two days ago he suffered an attack of heart trouble, which caused his death. He was 76 years old.

Mr. Richardson was born in Lisbon, N. H. He came to Burlington as a member of the firm of Henry & Co., which firm had been in operation in Waterbury, dealing in patent medicines. The members of the firm were General W. W. Henry, General Williams Wells, Edward Wells, L. B. Lord, B. H. Dewey, Dr. E. B. Johnson and Mr. Richardson. The transfer to Burlington was made in the spring of 1908, and the firm occupied the building called the Leavenworth block, now occupied by A. D. Pease. In Burlington, the firm also dealt in drugs and medicines, and the company eventually became the well-known Wells & Richardson company.

Mr. Richardson was largely instrumental in the financial success of the Wells & Richardson company. Later he formed with Charles M. Johnson the Johnson-Richardson company, and engaged in the manufacture of "Dy-o-lin" at 133 Pearl street.

He was one of the city's liberal men and held a share in everything of a public nature as long as he was able. His wife died several years ago, and he is survived by a son, Frederick, of New York, and two brothers, William of Lisbon, N. H., and Charles of Maine.

Albert P. Wood of Dorchester, Mass., a former resident of this city, arrived yesterday and will spend the summer with friends here.

Mrs. Ida E. Young and Mrs. Ellen Ward of South Barre have gone to Queen City park in Burlington to remain during the summer months at the Pine Tree cottage.

Miss Yvonne Bileau, whose home is in Graniteville, has arrived from Manchester, N. H., where she has been employed for the past year, to remain during the summer months.

Alexander "Sandy" Mortimer, a former Spaulding football star, is now at his home on the east hill to spend the summer months. For the past few months he has been a student at the University of Pennsylvania studying medicine.

Regular meeting of R. C. I. P. A. in Foresters' hall, Worthen block, Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Let all members be present. All who have received applications be there for initiation, also to elect a delegate to attend the American Federation of Labor meeting at Montpelier.

Airplane flights and a whole bagful of stunts by Lieut. Lynch of the U. S. army, a baby tank exhibition, and a splendid street parade with many soldiers and sailors in uniform are a few of the educational features of Barre's homecoming celebration July 4. You can't pay then, for everything is free. You can pay now by contributing to the fund which the community committee is collecting.

Miss Helen Brown arrived at her home at 327 North Main street this morning, having come here from Montreal. Miss Brown, together with five other young ladies, has just completed a tour of the western states in the interest of the South Hill Publishing company of Philadelphia. The trip included many of the largest western cities and covered a period of nearly six months. She is now home for an indefinite visit.

The annual picnic of the Sunday school of the Hedding Methodist Episcopal church is to be held on Saturday afternoon at Benjamin Falls. This is to be in the nature of a church picnic, and not only the children, but the whole families of those connected with the church are invited to attend. There will be games and sports, and refreshments will be provided. It is suggested that supper be carried, and a delightful afternoon and evening are anticipated.

Myrtle Pirie of Barre and James Pirie, jr., of Graniteville, motored last evening to White River Junction, where they met Seaman Elliot J. Pirie on his way home for a 10-day furlough. Two years ago he enlisted in the navy and for a considerable time was one of the crew of the U. S. battleship Rhode Island. Later he was transferred to the destroyer Busch, which aided in the search for Hawker and Grievous, the two Atlantic fliers believed at one time to have been lost at sea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pirie, jr., of Graniteville, and is but 19 years of age.

D. A. Perry, the auctioneer, returned yesterday from Burlington after having conducted a sale of 22 registered Guernsey cattle for the Vermont Guernsey Breeders' club. The sale was very successful and brought some good prices, the average price for the 22 head figuring $230. A three-year-old brought the record price for the day, which was $425. People from various points of the state attended the sale, while Washington county was represented by I. W. Bates of East Barre, Redfield Phillips of Montpelier, Daniel Skinner of Waitsfield and Mark Moody of Waterbury.

Seaman John Brusca, son of Mrs. Anna Brusca of 15 Howard street, after enjoying a short furlough from his duties, left to-day for Hoboken, N. J., to board once more the transport Leviathan. Friday morning the ship, which has made a great number of trips across the Atlantic in conveying soldiers to and from America, sails once more for France.

Corporal Paul Cook has been honorably discharged from the United States army and is now at his home on Perrin street. About a year ago he enlisted and for several months has been stationed in France.

West Point a Primary School.

General March crisply epitomized the need of a new regime at West Point when he told the graduation class: "The old order of army life in the United States has passed. The graduates of to-day, he pointed out, must enter upon a career 'diametrically different from that of a few short years ago.'"

The class of '19 is to sail at once for France to study the battlefields, the modern methods of supply and transportation and the general mechanics of up-to-date warfare. This innovation contrasts strikingly with the fate of the graduates of a decade or two ago, sent to rusticate at tiny posts in this country in the dependence, on the theory that they were already finished soldiers.

The West Point course has been out from four years to three. It will continue to furnish general instruction and discipline. But the idea has been abandoned forever that such instruction and rudimentary training are the makings of a real officer. His student days will not end in the academy. From it he will be transferred to the graduate schools at the army centers or in the cantonments and concentration camps.

War has become specialized to an extraordinary degree. To master any specialty is a life work. West Point will be the primary school hereafter for officers. But they will extend and complete their education in the university of actual experience.—New York Tribune.

MONTPELIER

An Attempt Being Made to Make Brick Out of Granite.

A meeting of the Board of Trade took place Tuesday evening. Owing to hot weather only a small attendance was present. James Linnchan of Boston explained the composition of a cement brick that he proposed to construct. The members asked him to make up a brick from Barre granite. After the meeting here they went to the office of Guy Varvum of the Boutwell, Milne & Varvum company, who believed the brick could be made from Barre granite and gave them figures upon costs of crushing and other data. Mr. Linnchan will make some brick of Barre granite and another meeting will take place.

The records of Montpelier city court to-day show that F. W. Mitchell of Montpelier appeared in city court last evening and paid a fine of $50 and costs amounting to $7.75 after having pleaded guilty to an offense against the fish and game laws which was set forth as "fishing in the waters posted by the state of Vermont and closed by the order of the fish and game department." These are in Warren. The prosecution was conducted by E. S. Newcomb, game warden. The complaint was made by George Long, deputy game warden. It is understood that four fish were caught Sunday on land that had been perpetually posted by the state.

Four candidates took the degree at the meeting of the Eastern Star Tuesday evening.

L. C. Moody, L. H. Bixby and M. F. McGuire have returned from the St. Bernard club, where they have enjoyed fishing. They brought home some nice trout. On the way to the upper lake Mr. Moody caught a six-pound lake trout but threw it back because there was no chance to take care of it while they were 10 days in the woods, and they would not have a chance to cook it for a couple of days.

Some 30 of the boys who saw service in the present war gathered in the armory last evening and the formation of a local chapter of the American legion took place. These signed the application for a chapter and the data has been sent to the national office. The name selected was the Montpelier post of the American legion. Upon the receipt of the charter, the officers will be elected.

The Capital City grange holds its regular meeting Thursday evening when it will be children's night and the program will be given by them in charge of Miss Anna Griffin, lecturer.

The secretary of state has received the report of an accident that took place in Rutland Tuesday when the car of Charles A. Hoar was damaged.

Alvie Keith appeared in Montpelier city court last evening on the charge of intoxication. He paid a fine of $5 and costs.

C. F. Lackey and Harry C. Shurtleff were in Rochester to-day on business. The fire department was called to the Capital grange to-day morning for a fire in an automobile. The men were cleaning the machine when fire broke out near the engine. They put it out about the time that the department arrived.

Deputy United States Marshal G. F. Lackey leaves Friday for Brattleboro with Maxwell Auerbach and Albertus Schipfizer, the two New York men who were found guilty in United States court of smuggling opium and its derivatives into this country. He will be joined at Brattleboro by Marshal A. P. Carpenter and they will take the men to Atlanta, Ga., where they will serve from one to two years in the federal prison.

The secretary of state is being delayed in the publication of the automobile book by the fact that the paper, which was bought by the state, has been delayed in shipment.

Persons living on Berlin street saw a deer cross the street last evening. It went across the Winooksi river and then left the city, apparently unfrightened.

The street department has sprinkled State and upper Elm streets with oil and this morning commenced the work of sprinkling upper Main street. It requires six horses to pull the sprinkler up Clay hill. They have the sidewalk and other work on lower State street completed.

Governor Clement has suggested his willingness to co-operate with Montpelier in the repairs of the piece of roadway which runs along beside the Pavilion hotel in Montpelier and which has been in bad shape for a few years. This is a driveway in which the state of Vermont and T. H. Heaphy have joint rights, but the city of Montpelier is interested because of the large amount of traffic over it by the residents of the city. If this street were closed it would mean an application for another exit to that end of Court street. It has been suggested that the state, Mr. Heaphy and the city pay one-third each and the construction be done by the state, which is one of the owners.

William Currier, who was arrested on Tuesday morning by Deputy Sheriff Emery after his escape from Montpelier Monday night, appeared in Montpelier city court Tuesday evening, pleading guilty to the charge of disposing of mortgaged property and was fined, which he will pay, with costs, at the rate of $2 a week. The horse on which the mortgage was held was considered worth about $40. Currier was also instructed by the court to keep away from his wife, who has brought divorce proceedings against him. This he promised to do.

Romulus Marino of Barre was brought before Judge E. M. Hickey in Montpelier city court Tuesday evening on the charge of operating an automobile when intoxicated, to which he pleaded guilty and then on the question of a penalty he asked permission to say something and told a story after this style: That a man called at his home to see the automobile, which he wanted to sell, that he had been driving the car, that they had a few drinks but that the man who wanted to buy the car was the man driving at the time the machine went into the ditch near the Asa Baldwin house on the Barre road. He told the grand juror that he did not know the man's name. The court gave him a fine of $10 and costs, which he settled.

Several cases were filed in Washington county court Tuesday afternoon. These include L. H. Miller of Wolcott vs. C. Allen Belleville of Worcester, to recover $2,000 over a lumber deal on the Slayton farm. It is an action in tort. W. A. Dutton appears for the plaintiff, Philip Vergani of Northfield has brought a suit to recover $1,000 damages from W. B. Hedges, H. F. Wingate, G. B. Sayer, M. S. Vincent, W. A. Austin and W. M. Glasheen, who are understood to be students in Northfield and are set up as "non-residents temporarily sojourning in Northfield," for damage said to have been done the plaintiff's automobile in Marshfield recently in an accident. He estimates his damages at $500 but brings action for other damages beside the actual damage done.
